Our Seventieth Anniversary

It is hard to believe that my father, Samuel A. Eisenberg (1904-1987), and I started to deal in ancient coins in 1942, as Royal Coin Company in Revere, Massachusetts. Following my discharge from the army in 1951 (60 years ago!) I reestablished the business in New York City. While specializing in ancient coins I began to deal in minor classical antiquities in 1954. Following a world-wide buying trip in 1958, including significant purchases in Egypt, I officially established Royal-Athena Galleries and issued my first catalog devoted to antiquities – all from Egypt – in 1959. In the next three years three more catalogs were published – all devoted to Egyptian and Near Eastern antiquities. In 1965 I published the first volume of Art of the Ancient World that now included an extensive selection of Greek, Etruscan, and Roman works of art. For over 35 years 21 additional volumes of Art of the Ancient World have been published, on an annual basis since 1999, not including our five special catalogs devoted to ancient vases, classical bronzes, and arms and armor (see inside back cover).

It is difficult to estimate the total number of antiquities Royal-Athena has sold – our computerized records go back less than 30 years, but the number is certainly in excess of 50,000. From 1958 to 1965 we officially exported some 24,000 antiquities from Egypt alone! How many countless thousands have enjoyed our ancient treasures in both museums and private collections?

Therefore, it is with great pride and delight that we celebrate our 70th year!
